

Blakemore Freeman Fellowships 2022 Grant Guidelines

Blakemore Freeman Fellowships are awarded for one academic year of full-time, intensive language study of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Thai, Vietnamese, Indonesian, Khmer or Burmese at the advanced level in approved language programs in East or Southeast Asia.

Grants are highly competitive. In recent years we have only been able to 5-10% of applicants.

Superior candidates pursuing careers in fields such as academia, STEM (science, technology, engineering, math), international business, accounting, law, medicine, journalism, architecture, teaching, social or NGO work, and government service are encouraged to apply.

What Type of Candidate Should Apply?

The Blakemore Foundation is looking for individuals who will make significant contributions to their field. The ideal candidate is someone with stellar grades, outstanding recommendations, and a demonstrated commitment to the Asian country and language. Beyond commitment, we are looking for purpose: a career path that will benefit from professional fluency in that modern Asian language throughout that individual's life.

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for a grant, an applicant must:

- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident of the United States.
- Be pursuing a professional, business, or academic career that involves the regular use of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Thai, Vietnamese, Indonesian, Khmer or Burmese.
- By the start of the grant, have (at minimum) bachelor's degree.
- Be at or near an advanced level in the language. By the start of the grant, applicants must have completed (at minimum) the third year of language classes at the college level, through formal classroom study at a college or university and/or in rigorous college-level language programs.
- Be able to devote oneself exclusively to full-time intensive language study during the term of the grant; grants are not made for part-time study or research.

Selection Criteria

- A focused, well-defined career objective involving East or SE Asia in which regular use of the language is an important aspect.
- The potential to make a significant contribution to a field of study or area of professional or business activity relating to an Asian country.
- Prior experience in the Asian country or involvement or participation in activities related to the country.
- Outstanding academic record.

Eligible Language Programs

For Japanese, we fund study at the Inter-University Center for Japanese Language Studies in Yokohama, Japan (the “IUC”). We do not award fellowships for any other Japanese language program.

For Chinese, we fund study at the Inter-University Program for Chinese Language Studies at Tsinghua University in Beijing, China (the “IUP”), or the International Chinese Language Program at National Taiwan University in Taipei, Taiwan (the “ICLP”). We do not award fellowships for any other Chinese language program.

For Korean, we fund study at Seoul National University, Sogang University and the Inter-University Center for Korean Language Studies at Sungkyukwan University in Seoul, South Korea. We will consider study at other language programs in South Korea on a case-by-case basis during the application review process.

Approval of language programs for study of Burmese, Indonesian, Khmer, Thai and Vietnamese will be considered on an individual basis during the application review process.

Residency Requirement

Blakemore Freeman Fellows are expected to remain in the study country during the entire period of their grant, except in the event of an emergency, required visa renewal travel or for absences approved in advance by the Foundation. Therefore, a Blakemore Freeman Fellow should not plan to return to the United States for Christmas or other holiday periods.

We encourage Blakemore Freeman Fellows to use holidays and school breaks for modest travel within their study country and to participate in other activities to expand their language usage outside the classroom.

Conflicting Activities

Blakemore Freeman Fellows must devote full-time to language study and not engage in any conflicting activities during the period covered by their grant.

Part-time employment, teaching English, extensive research on a dissertation or involvement in other projects which could hamper full-time study are not permitted.

Recreational, educational or cultural activities which do not interfere with full-time study are encouraged, particularly during school and holiday breaks.

Application and Acceptance by Language Program

Applicants need to apply independently to the language program involved by the language school's posted deadlines for applications for study during the 2022/2023 academic year.

Blakemore Freeman Fellowships are awarded contingent upon the applicant's acceptance by the language program for which the fellowship is awarded. This means that an applicant will likely receive a grant offer for a Blakemore Freeman Fellowship before the notification of admission by the language school involved; should the grantee subsequently not be admitted, the Blakemore Foundation's grant offer will be rescinded.

In addition, an applicant applying for admission to a language program must not be required by that program to complete a summer program as a prerequisite to academic year admission.

No grants are available for study in the United States.

U.S. Income Tax Liability

All grant funds from the Blakemore Foundation are taxable for U.S. federal income tax purposes unless the recipient qualifies for some type of exclusion or deduction.

Determining if any portion of the grant may be non-taxable for U.S. federal income tax purposes is the recipient's individual responsibility. Because of the variety of personal situations, we recommend applicants discuss their own individual case with a qualified tax advisor.

The Foundation does not issue a Form 1099-T, Form W-2 or Form 1099-Misc to recipients. No income tax is withheld from the grant and recipients are responsible for making any required estimated tax payments to the I.R.S.

Please refer to IRS Publication 970 Tax Benefits for Education and Form 1040-ES for further information.

Funds from Other Sources

A grantee may not accept other scholarships, fellowships or grants concurrently with a Blakemore Freeman Fellowship unless such funds are for assistance in meeting family expenses of the grantee or other expenses not covered by the Blakemore Freeman Fellowship.

Required Reports

Blakemore Freeman Fellows must submit a monthly letter reporting on their activities during the preceding month. They must also submit two longer progress reports to the Foundation during their fellowship, the first report due mid-grant, and a second report at the end of their grant. Financial reports regarding the use of stipend funds on forms provided by the Foundation must also be submitted at intervals during the grant and at the end of a Blakemore Freeman Fellowship.
